

Lead in Beauty Contest Is Again Taken by No. 50

No. 52, Who Was First Yesterday, Is a Very Close Second To-Day.

LAST COUPON SATURDAY

No Ballots Will Be Received After Feb. 20 at Noon.

The race of the beauties to win fame and fortune on the stage through the opportunity provided by The Evening World and Charles Frohman is getting livelier every day, and as only eleven days remain during which coupons may be sent in, the friends and admirers of the hundred-odd young women are working with the energy of real politicians. The offer of Mr. Frohman to give places in the cast of his big forthcoming production, "The Dollar Princess," and also to furnish a stage education for the twelve lucky girls, has attracted more attention than any other newspaper contest in years and has stirred thousands to vote-getting for their favorite candidates. To-day the lead has again switched from Beauty No. 52 to No. 50, and there are a few additional changes in the line-up of the twelve who lead the list.

Members of the theatrical profession are not eligible for the Frohman prizes. This was one of the conditions of the contest from the start, and it is one that will be insisted upon. Only girls who have had no previous stage experience will be considered in the final awards. The statement has been made that some of the competing beauties are girls of the stage. It is for their benefit this repetition of the condition that members of the theatrical profession can in no way benefit by Mr. Frohman's offer appears here.

How to Send in Votes.
Votes can be sent singly or in packages, as the candidate or voter prefers. The Evening World lays down no rule in the matter, except that the candidate's number must be on each vote and all votes must be in this office by noon Feb. 20.

The voting coupon will be printed in The Evening World on page 2 every day until Feb. 13.
The twelve girls who secure the largest number of votes will be handed over to Charles Frohman, who, after a term of instruction in stage work, will make them members of the company he will present in "The Dollar Princess" in this city next August. Each girl will be given a year's contract with Mr. Frohman at $5 a week.

WALTER L. HAWLEY DEAD.

Well Known Political Writer Victim of Typhoid.

Walter L. Hawley, who, as a political reporter for the Evening Sun, had a wide acquaintance among politicians, died to-day of typhoid fever after two weeks' sickness.

Mr. Hawley, since 1890, has been the political writer for the Evening Sun, and during that long period up to the first hour he was stricken, covered the City Hall in connection with his political work. Among city officials, from Mayor McClellan down, Mr. Hawley was well known.

During the nineteen years that he was daily at the City Hall, Mr. Hawley's work reflected his natural talents as a newspaper man. He met and made a friend of every Mayor who has presided at the City Hall during that period, and all admitted him for his constant devotion to duty and principle, and his ability as a writer. He organized the City Hall Reporters' Association, of which he was president for a number of years.

Mr. Hawley was forty-eight years old. He was married and had three sons. He died at his home, No. 29 West One Hundred and Twelfth street. He was born in South Carolina, but performed his first newspaper work in Alabama on the Birmingham Age-Herald. His last big political work was at the National conventions of 1908.
